50X1-HUM

1. In Stalinogrod a large block of barracks buildings is situated in the southern outskirts of the town, near Kosciuszko Park. It consists of 20 to 25 four and three story buildings. The barracks were originally German, but some three-story buildings were built after the war. These barracks are mostly occupied by infantry troops, but a small armored unit, composed of five T-34 tanks, was observed entering the barrack grounds after exercises. A unit armed with antitank guns, number and caliber not known, was also observed near the barracks.
2. An infantry unit is stationed in Gliwice (Gleiwitz) in two large buildings, four stories each, located on the outskirts of town. The barracks were originally German. This is the only army unit billeted in Gliwice.¹
3. An infantry regiment is stationed in Kozle (Cosel). No details are available.²

Comments.

1. This seems unlikely since Gliwice is believed to be the headquarters of the 7th Infantry Division, 11th Tank Regiment, and 33rd Infantry Regiment.
2. two artillery regiments are stationed here. No infantry regiment is held in Kozle.
